

5 Hat Racks

The two boys Jack and Matt walk into their messy room.

I have a few ideas!

To start, Jack comes up with ways to organize their hats.

By location like under the bed

Location refers to organization by geographical or spatial reference.

Alphabet refers to organization by alphabetical sequence (baseball cap, beanie, cowboy hat, flatcap, snapback).

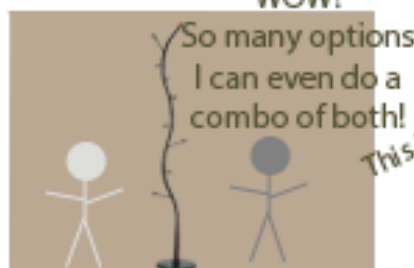

Time refers to organization by chronological sequence.

Category refers to organization by similarity or relatedness.

Continuum refers to organization by magnitude.

Using more than one organizational concept at a time is the most efficient.

Jack and Matt organized their hat rack successfully.
